

The Ergo Posture Group

833 Virginia Terrace
Santa Paula, Ca. 93060

Tel: (805)276-6373

Email:
bjorn@ergoposturegroup.com

---

The Business of Anthropometric Synchronization

---

October 9, 2003

Swedish Backcare System, Inc.

Plaza South, Suite 106
4475 U.S. 1 Hwy. South
St. Augustine, FL. 32086
(904)797-2225

Dear Sir or Madam:

I want to thank you for the invention and creation of this product. I have been suffering from severe sciatica as well as chronic thoracic pain and discomfort for about 9 years and at times I wondered if life would ever be enjoyable for me again. I purchased your product over the competition after extensive research on the methods and benefits of traction therapy. Being as tall of a person as I am I knew that whatever I bought would have to deal with both my weight and my height and be a viable investment that would give me relief for years to come.

The one thing which struck me on your machine that was different and perhaps the most clever that I have seen yet in traction tables was the incorporation of the gliding back pad set on a set of four rollers. That was the closer for me. I tried a machine in the same store called a hang ups and was immediately dissatisfied with the canvas back, not to mention that the security of the mechanical lock on your device dissolved any fears of accidents. I am immensely grateful for the strides that your company has made in the development of such a device. I owe both the recuperation of my injuries and thus the wellness and quality of my life to the Mastercare Inversion System.

As a professional in the field of human engineering / ergonomics, I have recommended your device to several of my clients. My best friend and business partner raved about his, which he purchased at a Relax the Back store in Los Angeles almost immediately after he tried mine out. Our company, the Ergo Posture Group, an occupational safety consulting firm out of Ventura County, California is planning expansion into specialized retail in the near to visible future. It will be our prime objective to incorporate a healthy environment into the office and home, not to mention the physical activity of the consumer. We will certainly look to have you and your fantastic product on board with us at that time.

Sincerely,

Bjorn Jan Sieben, CET,CAE,CHFS
Certified Ergonomic Technician,
Certified Associate Ergonomist,
Certified Human Factor Specialist.